IntegReview IRB and Veritas IRB announce partnership to provide accredited ethics review services in the U.S. and Canada

Austin, Texas and Montreal, Canada – IntegReview IRB partnered with Canadian-based Veritas IRB Inc., to provide ethics review services and risk management consulting to sponsors of research and investigators in both the United States and Canada.

“We are delighted to collaborate with Veritas IRB on Canadian site reviews. We appreciate the streamlined process for multi-investigational trials with a one-time submission for a dual protocol-level review.” said Melissa Meyer, CCRP, President of IntegReview IRB.

“We are excited to join together with IntegReview IRB to provide sponsors of research with exceptional ethics review and risk management services”, said Dr. Janice Parente, President of Veritas IRB Inc. “Together, Veritas IRB will work along side IntegReview IRB to provide Canadian research participants with the assurance that their rights and welfare will be protected by a group of individuals who understand local language, culture and laws, at both the federal and provincial levels”.

Through their combined efforts, IntegReview IRB and Veritas IRB will ensure a seamless and comprehensive review in full compliance with regulatory and ethical requirements in both countries. The partnership allows IntegReview IRB to have a strategic geographic presence in order to provide to its clients with seamless high quality services and human research protections oversight for research participants in the United States and Canada.
